

The Australia and New Zealand/North
American
Chris O'Brien Traveling Fellowship
Application 2010

The Councils of the American Head and Neck Society and the Australian-New Zealand Head and Neck Society announce the Chris O'Brien Traveling Fellowship

PURPOSE

The purpose of this fellowship is to encourage international exchange of information concerning surgical science, practice, and education and to establish professional and academic collaborations and friendships.

BASIC REQUIREMENTS

The scholarship is available to members in good standing of the American Head and Neck Society or the Australian-New Zealand Head and Neck Society of any of the surgical specialties who meet the following requirements:

- ❖ Has a major interest and accomplishment in clinic or basic sciences related to head and neck surgery
- ❖ Holds a current full-time academic appointment
- ❖ Has no more than 10 years experience in their practice
- ❖ Is enthusiastic, personable, and possesses good communication skills
- ❖ For purposes of the 2010 application, the candidate will travel to Australia/New Zealand and must therefore be a resident of North America.

ACTIVITIES

The Fellow is required to spend a minimum of two to three weeks in Australia and New Zealand/North America:

- ❖ To attend and participate in the biannual scientific meeting of the ANZHNS, or the quadrennial International Head and Neck Cancer Conference
 - For this application period, the candidate from North America will be attending the ANZHNS meeting to take place in Sydney, Australia, 2 – 4 September 2010
- ❖ The Chris O'Brien Traveling Scholarship will be awarded every two years alternating between Australia/New Zealand and North America (for purposes of the 2010 application, the candidate will travel to Australia/New Zealand and must therefore be currently residing in North America).
- ❖ To participate in the formal convocation ceremony of the meeting
- ❖ To attend and present an oral presentation
- ❖ To visit at least two medical centers in Australia/New Zealand or North America before or after the meetings to lecture and to share clinical and scientific expertise with the local surgeons

The academic and geographic aspects of the itinerary will be finalized in consultation and mutual agreement between the Fellow and the President or designated representative of the AHNS and the ANZHNS. The surgical centers to be visited depend to some extent on the special interest and expertise of the Fellow and his or her previously established professional contacts with surgeons in Australia and New Zealand or North America.

His or her spouse is welcome to accompany the successful applicant. There will be many opportunities for social interaction, as well as these professional activities.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

The ANZHNS and the American Head and Neck Society will provide the sum of $10,000 U.S. to the successful applicant, who will also be exempted from registration fees for the meetings. He/she must meet all travel and living expenses. The societies' representatives will meet with the Fellow about the centers to be visited in Australia and New Zealand or North America, the local arrangements for each center, and other advice and recommendations about travel schedules. The Fellow is to make his/her own travel arrangements in North America, as this makes available to him/her reduced fares and travel packages for travel in Australia and New Zealand.

The Councils of the American Head and Neck Society and the ANZHNS will select the Fellow after review and evaluation of the final applications. A personal interview may be requested prior to the final selection.

Applications for this traveling fellowship may be obtained from the American Head and Neck Society's Web site www.ahns.info or by writing to the secretary of the respective societies.

The closing date for receipt of completed applications is January 31, 2010. The successful application and an alternate will be selected and notified by March 20, 2010.
